Competency Based Training and Assessment (CBT)

Competency Based Training (CBT) is an approach to teaching that focuses on allowing a student to demonstrate their ability to do 'something'. Used in the VET sector, CBT is used to develop concrete skills and is typically based on a standard of performance expected in the workplace and industry.

CBT programs deliver qualifications that are made up of Units of Competency. Each unit defines the skills and knowledge required to effectively perform in the workplace at the expected level. Assessment is based upon the learning outcomes expected from each Unit of Competency.

How Does Assessment Work in CBT?

Unlike the traditional school system of grading assessments on a scale such as A to F, assessments of CBT determines if you have the required skills and knowledge or have not yet acquired them.

Assessment is specifically conducted to determine if a student can deliver essential outcomes related to the performance criteria within each Unit of Competency. If a student's performance in the assessment does not demonstrate the requirements, rather than receiving a fail, competency-based assessment means the student is marked as 'Not Yet Competent' and more training is required to get to the point of being 'Competent'. Assessors will look for evidence against which to base their judgements of competency.

The ways to demonstrate to our qualified assessors that you can perform to the required standard is to be classified as Satisfactory (S) in each of the unit assessment tasks. When all unit assessment tasks (inclusive of any placement requirement) results in a Satisfactory (S) outcome you will be deemed Competent (C) in the unit of study.

Issuance of the qualification requires a Competent (C) outcome for all units within a qualification, inclusive of placement requirements.

Assessment tasks include and may be a combination of the following, but are not limited to:

- Clinical Placement
- Responses to verbal questioning
- Written responses to theory questions (short and long)
- Responding to case studies
- Research and response
- Simulated workplace observations and activities

- Facilitating a project
- Submitting a written report
- Compiling a portfolio of work evidences and examples

APC maintains industry engagement for each of the training products delivered that outlines the required approaches for the conduct of assessment to meet the mandatory Standards for Registered Training Organisations 2015 and the qualification outcomes.

Training and Assessment

All APC trainers and assessors meet the required qualifications as identified in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations 2015 and evidence that they have ongoing sufficient, current and relevant industry experience to train and assess the courses delivered by APC.

Included in our APC training and assessment strategies are practices that promote flexibility for learning and assessment. This means we will work with students to provide learning and assessment options that are responsive to individual needs, and that maximise learning outcomes and access to learning activities.

Submitting Assessments

You are required to complete assessments in full for all units within a qualification. You will receive detailed instructions on the requirements for assessment, including its context and purpose. Ensure that you talk to your trainer/assessor to clarify anything that is not clear to you.

Your individual assessments will be reviewed, and the outcome will be identified by the assessor as either Satisfactory (S) or Not Yet Satisfactory (NYS).

Competency (C) across a unit can only be achieved once a student has been identified as Satisfactory (S) for the collective assessment tasks within a unit of competency, inclusive of any placement/practical workshop requirements.

Where an assessor deems you as NYS for an assessment task, you will be required to reattempt this assessment. You will have three (3) attempts for theoretical assessments, and two (2) attempts for practical assessments. If you are deemed NYS for a final attempt, you will be required to re-enrol in the unit of competency.

Assessment Feedback

You will receive feedback from your assessor regarding the outcome of each of your assessment items within 21 business days from submission. This feedback will support and guide you in any re-assessment required.

Resubmissions

Where an assessor deems you as NYS for an assessment task, you will be required to reattempt this assessment. You will have three (3) attempts for theoretical assessments, and two (2) attempts for practical assessments.

If you receive feedback on your assessment submission that identifies your submission as NYS, you will need to review the feedback and address the required areas of the assessment(s) outcomes. Students must ensure to provide additional and/or accurate evidence to support a Satisfactory outcome and resubmit for their units of theory, or through the application of practical demonstrations with your assessor.

Where a student is deemed NYS for all three (3) theoretical attempts, they must consult with a trainer via a phone appointment for a final attempt. If a student is deemed NYS on their final attempt, they are required to re-enrol into the unit and pay any/all applicable fees. APC staff will make every reasonable effort to support you to succeed in your studies and unit outcomes. Please talk to your trainer/assessor for more information. If a student is deemed NYS for a practical component after the permitted number of attempts, they are required to reattend the full clinical workshop to allow for additional training and reassessment.

Late Submission of Assessment

Students are suggested to follow the start/end dates for each of their units of study, as per their training plan.

Students will not be penalised if they do not have their assessments in by the unit 'end date' on their training plan. Despite this, if a student does fall behind in their studies and not complete their course in it's entirely before their course end date, further fee's may be applicable for extensions. Students that are failing to progress and/or submit assessments in a reasonable time may be asked to enter into a student progression agreement to support completion of studies.

Please refer to the course duration and progression policy on the website for further information.

Reasonable Adjustment

Reasonable adjustment will be applied (where required) to increase achievements in vocational qualification.

The need for reasonable adjustment may be identified during or after enrolment where an LLN assessment has been conducted or LLN support required.

APC will ensure any reasonable adjustment applied towards assessments will not compromise the integrity of assessment, elements, and performance criteria of the unit of competency.

Adjustments to assessment will not provide an unfair advantage/disadvantage to students and must be documented and identified with the assessment outcomes.

Clinical Placement

In the case where your course of study requires completion of clinical placement hours, a Clinical Placement Agreement is required. The agreement is provided by APC and completed between yourself, the Host Organisation, and APC.

Placement is not outlined on a student's training plan as it can be completed at any time following a student's satisfactory attendance and completion of their applicable workshop/s. Clinical Placement is to be sourced by the student as advised prior to enrolment, with assistance provided by the Clinical Placement Coordinator.

Recognition Process

Australian Paramedical College aims to provide the best learning experience possible for students. Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) and Credit Transfer (CT) allows students to have previous experience and learning recognised as part of their enrolment. Students will be made aware of potential RPL/CT opportunities at the time of enrolment. Students may email rpl@apcollege.edu.au once enrolled if they wish to apply/request recognition for their enrolment.

Students must identify their 'Recognition' intent on enrolment or at the very point of commencement with APC, ensuring the customised development of a training plan that is personalised and effective to meet the student's needs.

Please refer to the Recognition Policy on our website for more information regarding Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) and Credit Transfer (CT) eligibility and processes.

Assessment Evidence Requirements

All assessment evidence must be:

- Authentic – Must be your own work
- Sufficient – Must demonstrate competency over a period and that the competencies can be repeated. The evidence must be enough so that the assessor can make an accurate judgement regarding competency
- Current – Must demonstrate up to date knowledge and skills i.e. from the present or the very-recent past
- Valid – It must be relevant to what is being assessed

Foundation Skills

All training and assessment delivered by APC encompass 'Foundation skills' as per unit requirements.

Foundation skills are non-technical skills that support application and participation in the workplace, the community, and in adult education and training.

Examples of foundation skills include things such as communication skills, literacy skills interacting with others, and skills to effectively participate in the workplace such as teamwork, problem solving, and self/time-management.

Academic Integrity, Plagiarism and Referencing

When it comes to properly acknowledging where information has come from, students should be aware of, and confident referencing and identifying the source of any information that is not your own work.

Learning to formal reference will support a student's pathway for higher Education Studies.

All work that a student submits must be their own. By submitting an assessment and signing the student declaration, it confirms that you agree the submission of assessment is your own. Plagiarism is taking someone else's work and/or ideas, images and passing them off as your own. It is a form of cheating and is taken seriously by APC.

APC shall provide four (4) warnings to students found cheating and/or plagiarising depending on the severity.

APC provides an appeal process for students that can be provided (if required).

- Warning 1: You will receive notification and be required to re-work the assessment and resubmit the unit using your own words and/or proving relevant references where required.
- Warning 2: You will receive notification and be suspended for a period of 1-3 months in which time you cannot participate in online studies, assessment tasks or workshops during the suspension period. You will then be reinstated to commence studies again online.
- Warning 3: You will be withdrawn from the relevant unit(s) and required to re-enrol. The unit(s) fee shall be incurred again by you; the student, and you must re-submit all the units(s) Assessment Tasks in full for the unit.
- Warning 4: You will be withdrawn from the course of study, and will not be eligible to re-enrol with Australian Paramedical College

Please ensure you read the Academic Integrity Policy on our website for more information.

Complaints and Appeals

As a student, you have the right to lodge a complaint/appeal if you disagree with an outcome or any issue with which you feel aggrieved. Students are encouraged to speak with the relevant individual in the first instance. Where you are not satisfied with the outcome of that discussion, you may submit a formal appeal and request a formal review.

Please see APC's Complaints and Appeals Policy and Process on our website for more information.

Where to Get Help

You can talk to your trainer/assessors for help in understanding how to complete your assessments. If you require help with any other area, please contact the Student Success Team for additional information.

Student Conduct

APC's Student code of code outlines the expected behaviour of students enrolled with APC, inclusive of when representing APC for any clinical placement activities. This is the student's fundamental responsibility throughout the entirety of enrolment and participation with APC.

In the case that a student breaches this code of conduct, the following may be applicable:

1. Student will be issued a verbal warning
2. Student will be issued a written warning
3. Student will be unenrolled from their course and removed from Australian Paramedical College.

If a student is unenrolled and removed from APC, the above steps will have been actioned prior to this decision. Excessive breaches of the student code of conduct will result in removal from the college.

Please review the Student Code of Conduct on our website for more information and specific requirements.

Workplace Health and Safety (WHS)

Workplace health and safety legislation applies to everyone at APC. All staff, students and visitors have a responsibility to ensure the workplace is safe and that their own actions do not put the health and safety of others at risk. Students will receive WHS information on the first day of their workshop/s, with any additional need for WHS information addressed e.g. onsite information. Students are asked to report any incident or hazard immediately.

Smoking, Drugs and Alcohol

APC is a smoke-free environment. Smoking is prohibited in all buildings and only permissible at designated locations away from building entrances; there is to be no smoking within four (4) metres of a building entrance.

Any student under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol is not permitted on APC premises, to use APC facilities or equipment, or to engage in any APC activity.

Students taking prescription medication have a duty to ensure their own safety, and that the safety of others is not affected. There is no specific requirement for a student to disclose use of prescription medication. A student may wish to disclose this information where it may impact on their studies, other students, or course progression.

Student Feedback

APC is dedicated to ensuring its practices are constantly reviewed to ensure best possible outcomes. This approach to continuous improvement relies on input from students regarding their experiences whilst enrolled in their course. We welcome feedback at any time but will also specifically ask for it at the completion of your study related to your enrolment, training and assessment, support and general engagement and experience with APC.

Students are required to complete the Feedback Survey required for data collection by the VET regulator. No personal information is disclosed in these general course surveys.

Students may be required, by the VET Regulators, to participate in student surveys current and post completion of studies regarding student engagement, provision of information and support, conduct, processes and delivery of training and assessment.

Issuing Qualification and Certificates

It is APC's responsibility that once all units of competency are deemed competent and provided all fees are paid, APC will award the student with their qualification in the form of a Testamur and transcript/Statement of Attainment. This will be done within 30 business days of the aforementioned requirements being met. This meets the issuance requirements identified in the Standards for RTOs 2015.

Where a student has been deemed as 'Not Yet Competent' in one (1) or more of the enrolled units of study, the student will not be issued a full qualification, however APC will issue a Statement of Attainment for all units deemed as Competent.
